

Brown Bag Talks 2017

“I Was Born in Jail, I’m Still in Jail”

Sarah Judson

(Associate Professor of History and Africana Studies)

will talk about the protests in Asheville during September 1969 , when black youth and community organizers expressed their anger at the lack of social change in Asheville

Thursday

March 30

12:00pm – 1:00pm

Special Collections Reading Room

Bring your lunch and join your colleagues for this informal presentation and discussion. Light refreshments and beverages will be provided